

New York Ironweed

Veronia noveboracensis

- ❁ Tall clump forming perennial boasting loosely branched clusters of tiny, fluffy intense purple finely petaled flowers in late summer & early summer. Each flower consists of 30-50 blooms. Blooms give way to fluffy seed clusters that are devoured by the birds.
- ❁ Well suited for the back of the perennial border.
- ❁ A must have plant for attracting pollinators & butterflies to your garden!
- ❁ Native to Ontario

Height: 4-6 Feet

Zone: 5
