

Culver's Root

Veronicastrum virginicum

- ❁ Dense, slender, 9" long spikes of tiny, tube-like, white to pale blue flowers open from the top down in late spring to early summer atop strong, upright stems
- ❁ Resembles a large veronica except the leaves are in whorls.
- ❁ A must have plant for attracting pollinators & butterflies to your garden! Deer resistant.
- ❁ Native to Ontario & Manitoba

Height: 4-6 Feet

Zone: 3

Full Sun

Partial Sun

Butterflies

Culver's Root is in recycled pots, please disregard any odes written on the pots.