

Spiny Bear's Breeches

Acanthus spinosus

- ❁ Profusion of strikingly elegant spikes of hooded, pure white flowers adorned with spiny, purple red bracts from early to late summer. Forms a mound of large, shiny, deeply cut dark green leaves that remain attractive throughout the growing season.
- ❁ Excellent in the sunny border, best placed where the entire plant can be seen as a specimen. In cold winter regions, grow this in a large container, and bring indoors to a cool, bright frost-free area, or else plan to mulch deeply in late fall. May be divided in spring, and any roots left in the ground will form new little plants.
