

Kousa Or Chinese Dogwood

Cornus Kousa

- ❁ A beautiful small tree covered with showy white pointed flower bracts in the spring. Blooms later than our native flowering dogwood
- ❁ Vase shaped when young but developing a rounded outline with distinct horizontal branching. Exfoliating tan, grey and brown bark turns reddish-purple in the fall
- ❁ The red fruits are edible and they look like a big round raspberry. Birds devour the fruit quickly. Fall color varies from red to maroon

Height: 24 Feet

Zone: 4

Full Sun

Partial Sun

Moist, Well-Drained

Songbirds

