

Dutchman's Pipe

Aristolochia Macrophylla /Durior

❁ This vigorous twining vine is an old-fashioned picturesque favorite grown for its large, (12 inches) heart-shaped, leaves which can quickly cover sun porches, verandas, pillars, posts, trellises, arbors, fences or walls. Unusual, 2" long flowers look something like Dutch smoking pipes. This is the larval host plant for the blue and black pipevine swallowtail butterfly.

Height: Will Climb 30 Feet

Zone: 5

To help you identify Dutchmans Pipe Vine the code DP is written on the side of the pot.

Full Sun

Partial Sun

Vigorous

Butterflies

Climbing Vine