

Beaked Hazelnut

Corylus cornuta

- ❁ Dense thicket-forming shrub with fuzzy, oval bright green leaves that turn yellow in fall
- ❁ In late winter, long pendant, pale yellow-grey male catkins dangle like Christmas decorations. The catkins release clouds of pollen that attract bees and other pollinators. Catkins are followed by edible brown nuts in hairy green husks.
- ❁ Native to most of Canada including Ontario

Height: 6-16 Feet

Zone: 4

Full Sun

Partial Sun

Moist, Well-Drained

Beaked Hazelnut is in recycled pots, please disregard any codes written on the pots.